

These are the questions that need to be answered when submitting a project

1 - Please enter the project timeline (start/end dates + specific events and milestones); please use one line per entry, for example "15 February 2016-initial Skype meeting")

2 - What specific results/outcomes can be expected from this project?

3 - Academic quality and impact: what is the likelihood of the research being highly regarded, gaining wide recognition and having significant impact if, and when, it is published? How will it enhance the reputation of both institutions and the profile of the lead researchers?)

4 - Strategic relevance: how is the proposal relevant to both universities' respective international strategies and how will it generate useful outcomes to society locally and globally, such as building capacity and influencing policy?

5 - Partnership: How will the partnership contribute to the promotion and consolidation of the relationship between University of Sydney and the University of Geneva? What is the collaboration history of the researchers? Is there a solid foundation for continued collaboration?

6 - Innovation: How will the research project contribute to novel thinking and/or new technology in its field?

7 - Sustainability: What are the prospects of the project's sustainability beyond the funded term, including external funding? How likely is it that the project will lead to the development of activities such as joint teaching programs and institutionalized research collaboration?
